

Am I going to bother you if I'm in here?

You bother me wherever you are.

What kind of bow doesn't get tied?

A rainbow.

What kind of fly loves bread?*

All of them. What kind of fly doesn't love bread?

* a butterfly

I have twenty pages finished for my next book.

Hmm. So, you didn't actually quit comics?

Not yet.

How many times have you quit now?

For my birthday, I want a copy of you that doesn't mind when I scream in their ears or move around in their face.

Starting to choke on nothing, a moment before taking a big drink of water

ptew!

an hour later:

Hi, Crooky.

Why is your head all wet?

A friend of mine had a baby recently, and another friend wanted several of us to meet at her yard to do yoga together and cheer her up.

I hate things like that. Doing a favor should never be a group project. If I do something nice for someone, it's going to be on my terms and I'm going to get full credit for it.
